

Teens

Have time on your hands? Want to do something productive with your time? Want to have your voice heard and have it heard on your own 1 hour radio program? Want to learn to conduct an interview on issues that you know are important to you and the youths in your South Philadelphia community? Want to learn how to develop your own website? Want to be a radio personality, investigative reporter, your own producer? Then the Jr. Stakeholders is the way to make your dreams come to a reality.

The South Philadelphia Junior Stakeholders Group is a group of teens that meet twice each week from 4:30pm- 6:30pm at United Communities, located at 2029 South 8th Street, to discuss issues that affect the community.

Following meeting dates for 2007 are:

July 20, 24, 27, and 31st

August 3, 7, 10, 14, 17, 21, 24, 28, and 31st

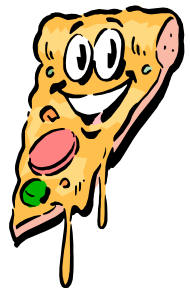

September 4, 7, 11, 14, 18, 21, 25, and 28th

October 2, 5, 9, 12, 16, 19, 23, 26, and 30th

Learn Investigative Reporting
Conduct A Proper Interview

Strengthen Your Communication Skills, Become A Voice For Your Generation and Community

Operate your own Talk Show Radio Program and also learn how to Produce your own music. If this is something that interests you then the Jr. Stakeholders is the program for you!!!!

For more information please contact: Glenn Wrighten @ (215) 468-6111 x25.

For registration and more information contact me @ (215) 468-6111 x25

The only requirements are that you are between 14-18 years old and have A desire to create a positive outlook for your generation and your community.

Food will be provided